

I believe that when too few companies control the media that a narrowing of the world view takes place. Freedom are not taken by governments alone, but individuals and corporations with agendas of their own. The limits on how many media outlets that one company can own in a market are important for allowing the greatest cross section of American viewpoints to get to Americans. Please do not allow News Corp, Disney, and the like take over every tv and radio station just to make themselves more money.

Thank you,
